"Thy word is a torch unto my feet, and a light unto my path." Psalms 119:105

Come to me!

By Rev. Thomas A. Robb

We find recorded in Luke 15 one of most loved parables given by Jesus Christ. It is the story known as the Prodigal Son. This story is so well known that it would be redundant to place the reading of it in THE TORCH. But I will reference briefly. A man had two sons. One son doesn't want to wait until his father dies to get his inheritance so he asks his dad if he could get it now. His father gives it to him and with his inherited "wealth" he sets off into the world. But then, without his father's guiding wisdom, he wastes his inheritance on wild living. Soon he is broke and works at a job feeding pigs and even eating the same food pigs eat, in order to survive. He knows he has been foolish and so he decided to go back home to his father and face humiliation.

Moms Are Amazing!

By Rev. Thomas A. Robb

As I thought about what to say in this small tribute to mothers, I considered what I could say that hasn't been said a thousand plus a thousand times already. For example, we should all be familiar with Proverbs 31, where David ponders, "Who can find a virtuous woman? For her price is far above rubies. Her children rise up and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her." Last week, I stopped at Miller's Hardware store in Harrison. I have been shopping at Miller's from the first day I moved to Harrison in the early 1970s. Miller is a great family-owned business with values that are often lost above rubies. Her children rise up and

The OLD Jerusalem Is Not the NEW Jerusalem

By Dr. Rachel M.R. Pendergraft

Christian Zionism has become one of the most powerful religious-political forces in America today. Many Christians insist that modern Israel and Old Jerusalem remain the center of God's prophetic plan.

They often justify this by claiming a shared "Judeo-Christian" heritage. Yet even respected Jewish scholars reject this idea outright. Arthur A. Cohen was a Jewish theologian and philosopher, educated at the University of Chicago and the Jewish Theological Seminary, and co-founder of Noonday Press. In THE MYTH OF THE JUDEO-CHRISTIAN TRADITION, he wrote that the so-called Judeo-Christianity is "a myth of history... an assumption founded upon the self-deceiving of man," and Jacob Neusner, an Orthodox-trained Jewish scholar and Brown University professor, who authored over 900 books and became one of the world's leading experts on Judaism, rabbinic thought, the Mishnah, Talmud, and Jewish law, stated plainly, "Judaism and Christianity are completely different religions... talking about different things to different people." Despite this, Christian Zionists continue to pour staggering amounts of money into Zionist organizations. One of the largest, the INTERNATIONAL FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIANS AND JEWS, operates with a budget exceeding $318 million, almost entirely from Christian donors. This level of support is driven by the belief that Old Jerusalem is still God's favored city. But Scripture itself tells a very different story.

Isaiah 65:18–19 is often quoted to defend the idea that Jerusalem in the Middle East remains central to God's plan. Yet the verse immediately before it sets the context: "For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth..." (Isaiah 65:17). The prophetic Jerusalem Isaiah describes belongs to the new creation, not the old world. The language matches Revelation 21:1 and 2 Peter 3:13. The prophetic city is not the modern city of political turmoil and ancient stones. It is a land that is designed as the New Zion, where God's covenant people will one day rule as a light unto the nations, and God's earthly Kingdom (government) will emanate from its borders.

Scripture also establishes a clear pattern

God's presence is not permanently tied to Old Jerusalem. Psalm 78:59–60 records that God "forsook the tabernacle of Shiloh," proving that even a place where He once placed His name could be abandoned. Jeremiah 7:12–14 applies this precedent directly to Jerusalem, declaring that God would do to the Temple "as I have done to Shiloh." Jesus confirms this judgment when He says, "Behold, your house is left unto you desolate" (Matthew 23:38). Not "My house." Not "Our house." Your house, because God had departed. Matthew 24:2 seals the prophecy: "There shall not be left here one stone upon another." The destruction of Jerusalem, occurring in 70 A.D. is not a temporary setback; it is the fulfillment of divine judgment. Ezekiel 11:23 describes the moment the glory of God departed from

The TV is Lying to you AGAIN!

By Jason M Robb J.D.

Recently, there has been a television series regarding King David on the Fox channel as well as Angel Network. In the series, King David is depicted as a dark colored, middle eastern nonwhite, thereby suggesting the Israelites (God's Chosen people) were a non white people. So-called scholars and propagandists seem eager to promote this erroneous anti-white lie that King David (ancestor of Jesus Christ) was a typical Middle Easterner with dark skin and dark hair, because they look at today's Middle Eastern people and conclude "that is how he must have looked." They fail to acknowledge the plethora of historical evidence showing the migrations of the Israelites into Europe, which clearly demonstrates that King David would look more European than Middle Eastern. Here are some things just to think about. Again, this is just scratching the surface. First, Adam in Genesis literally means, among many of its definitions, "red" or "to blush," to show redness in the face. This creates the concept of a Rosy Completion.

Fake David
Real David

Each time the word Adam appears or one of its variants, it means the ability to show blood in the face. These words are ādēm (Strongs #131), ādōm (Strongs #137), and 'admōnî (Strongs #145). Each word refers to the color red.

Secondly, ruddy is used four times in scripture.

#1 - Samuel 16:12 describes David as "ruddy and had beautiful eyes and was handsome."

#2 - 1 Samuel 17:42, describing David again when he went out to face Goliath; the Philistines disdained him because he was "but a youth, and ruddy."

#3 - Song of Solomon 5:10, is used poetically by the bride to describe her beloved (David) as "white and ruddy."

#4 - Lamentations 4:7, describing the Nazarites of Jerusalem as "more ruddy in body than rubies."

Ruddy represents red, reddish, or rosy color.

Based on the word "ruddy," King David had red hair and a light complexion. Clearly, a racial description of White people.

Third, there are other redheads in the Bible. There is one person in David's family, his 9th great uncle, Esau. Genesis 25:25 tells us that Esau had red hair. Thus, with red hair running in the family genes, it is very probable that King David had red hair, as the Bible clearly states he was ruddy.

Only one race carries this racial genetic characteristic. It's not the blacks, nor the Middle Eastern Arabs, nor the Asians. It is the Caucasian, white race. King David would more likely look like a redheaded Irishman than a dark, swarthy Middle Easterner. END

NOTE!
 We are aware that there are some examples of Negroes having red hair. This is caused by a mutation called rufous Albinism and it is extremely rare. It is the same as some mutations will produce Negro Albinos. But this is not from genetics but from mutation.
 See example below of a white albino Negro.

COME TO ME from page 1

The parable tells us as he was going home, his father saw him from far off, runs out to embrace him and welcomes him home with great joy.

I think the reason this parable is so endearing is because of its simplicity and its reliability to moms and dads.

I have often noticed that it is far easier for children to leave home than for parents to watch their children leave home. Usually the departure is with grace because mom and dad knows it is time. But sadly sometimes it is not so graceful.

I think that was the story behind the Irish Ballad, Danny Boy. The son parted ways with his father and the father hungering for his son to return home before his death. But apparently it didn't happen. The song ends with the father longing from the grave to hear his son once again say, I love you.

*But come you back when summer's in the meadow
Or when the valley's hushed and white with snow
'tis I'll be there in sunshine or in shadow
Oh Danny boy, oh Danny boy, I love you so.*

*And if you come, when all the flowers are dying
And I am dead, as dead I well may be You'll come and find the place where I am lying
And kneel and say an "Ave" there for me.*

*And I shall hear, tho' soft you tread above me
And all my dreams will warm and sweeter be
If you'll not fail to tell me that you love me
I simply sleep in peace until you come to me.*

The parable doesn't say, but I wonder what kind of stress was in that household when the boy took his inheritance and left.

But the parable is certainly a story of love and redemption.

It is interesting that the parable suggests the son, for a period of time, had forgotten the father. But the parable also suggests that the father never forgot the son. Jesus tells us that as the boy was on his journey home and "while he was still a long way off, his father saw him"

The story reminds me of the George Strait song. A Love Without End which contains the following lyrics.

*"Let me tell you a secret about a father's love,
A secret that my daddy said was just between us."
He said, "Daddies don't just love their children every now and then. It's a love without end, amen, it's a love without end, amen."*

George Strait sang a song about a father's love for his son.

Danny Boy was originally a poem about a father's love for his son even into the grave

And The Prodigal Son was a parable about a father's love for his son.

America is like the prodigal son

A few years ago I gave a sermon titled, The Prodigal Nation.

In the US Declaration of Independence it states that Representatives of the United States of America meeting in general assembly were "appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world" and they did so "with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence." This "firm reliance" was decidedly Christian.

Christianity was genetically woven into every cell of our DNA. A question to AI makes this remarkable statement. "Historically, U.S. immigration was dominated by Europeans, most of whom were Christian (Protestant or Catholic). This reinforced a largely Christian national identity."

Since the 1965 Immigration and Nationality Act, immigration shifted toward Asia, Latin America, Africa, and the Middle East, bringing more people of non-Christian faiths, including Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism, and non-religious individuals."

America, like the prodigal son had received a wonderful inheritance. An inheritance that produced the greatest, most powerful and wealthiest nation in the history of the world. But because of America's racial demographic shift beginning in 1965 America, like the prodigal son has gone "into a far country."

Even though spiritually we are in a far country, our father calls for us to come home.

News from the

By Thomas Robb

Most of you will get this issue of THE TORCH about the time we are holding our annual Faith and Freedom Fellowship conference. Below is the front of our schedule. Inside it shows when we will be having our meals, speakers and fellowship time. As you can see, the theme is STAY FAITHFUL.

Of course as I write this we are still receiving registrations and requests for room in our bunk houses. If you didn't attend then you will have missed out on a valuable experience of fellowship and learning.

Getting ready for conference here on the campus of the SOLDIERS OF THE CROSS does take some preparation.

Here is the current list that still need to be done before the conference: Wash Chairs & tables on deck, clean inside of bell tower, wash inside of refrigerators in back pantry, bug bomb the cabins, clean cabins, clean bathrooms, make sure all lights are working in cabins and in church, have foyer light repaired, pick up fallen limbs and put in burn pile, check out play ground for safety, put new toilet in family cabin, replace rail road ties, put up posts for sign at front gate, kill weeds by front gate, clean up side of office, clean up outside of bathroom, put up new flag, put flags up along driveway, put up flags along tree line, get paper supplies for bathrooms and install paper towels, mulch at front gate entrance, put up small billboard in front along the road, get flowers for patio, get foliage at front by pulpit, have a nervous breakdown, check out song sheets, get schedule printed, brush at fire pit burned up, have wood for Saturday night bonfire, put up rope lights for pathway to cabins, buy groceries, confirm speakers, double check sound and recording systems, church and dinning cleaned, put up table cloths, and still be prepared for something going wrong!

It usually does!

Of course, there is a team of people that will get this done. This team is doing all this for only one reason, they Love Their God and Love Their People! Than means you!

In fact, this White Christian outpost in the heart of the Ozarks can only exist because we have a team of people throughout the country who give the financial backing needed for our evangelism outreach. People like you who also Love Their God and Love Their People! That is why the giving of your Christian tithe is so vitally important!

Recently I was in my office and Muriel "hollered" up that there were some people at the front gate. I've told her that unless it is someone she knows, she is to call me and I will go out to see who it is. So . . .

"Tom, there are some people at the front gate." I went out to see who it was. Actually my office is up stairs so most of the time I can just look out the window and take a look.

Caleb and Victor make some improvements to our sound system.

This time, I saw

This Guy

He was with two other guys of the same racial “persuasion.” They were all polite and wanted to do an interview for his Youtube channel. This interview has now been viewed over 1 ½ million times. If you wish you can go on YouTube and check out this interview <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bpwiAgICpGM> or you might type in to your YouTube search engine by typing MOOCH KKK and I think you should find it.

I spoke with him for a few minutes and he did a descent job for his channel. Things like this doesn’t alarm us. Our whole family is used to these things considering I have been dealing with establishment media and now citizens media for 50 years. Below is the front page of an interview from 1976.

If you have seen some of these interviews I think you will agree we get some good coverage. I do get some criticism for speaking to the establishment media or for speaking to You Tubers.

But I won’t take time to explain the justification and the necessity for doing this.

Spring has finally gotten to the Ozarks, But we did have one cold snap that came through a couple of weeks ago which required me to bring some firewood into the house. Muriel was raised in a home high up in the Sierra Nevada Mountains in Northern California about 50 miles west of Donner Pass that was heated by wood. So she likes to have a fire in the fireplace. I have a photo below of the fire we recently had during the cold snap.

Of course, she then needed to roast some hot dogs in the fire. I was then told we can’t have a fire without having hot chocolate.

Of course, she then had to invite the grand kids over for smores - because that is what grandma’s do!

When you have a fireplace!

We are moving a head with the Januseum. I am aware this is taking much longer than we had hoped, but we can only advance on this project in accordance to the financing that has been gifted this ministry. The Januseum will be a “first class” presentation of White Christian Revival. We could have thrown something together at a cheaper price tag. But it is important that this be something of which we all can be proud. We have a great number of items for display and we are constantly on the search for more things that will encourage and inspire future generations.

Recently we were gifted this jacket worn by Tina Higgins at White Nationalists activities in New York.

At one point in the 90s she was identified by the media for her White Christian patriotic activity. They even searched out where she lived and her place of employment, exposing it all on the nightly news in an attempt to force an apology from her. However, Tina didn’t back down. Tina is a good example of the bravery of those willing to stand for a righteous cause. END

Psalm 46:1

Jerusalem, and Scripture never records it returning. The old city is not the future city.

The land itself was conditional. Deuteronomy 29:27–28 explains that obedience meant blessing, but rebellion meant exile. Exile was not a surprise; it was built into the covenant from the beginning. Yet the most overlooked passages in this entire discussion are the ones where God promises a future land, not the old one.

These verses must be emphasized because each was spoken long after Israel had already been living in C a n a a n /

Palestine. The first is 2 Samuel 7:10, where God declares: “I will appoint a place for my people Israel... and they shall move no more.” Israel was already in the land of Palestine when this was spoken, so the promised place could not have been the land they were already occupying. The second is 1 Chronicles 17:9, which repeats the same promise: “I will ordain a place for my people Israel... and they shall be moved no more.” This was written about 900 years after Israel had entered Canaan, making it impossible for the prophecy to refer to the land they already possessed. The third is Isaiah 14:1, which states: “For the LORD will... yet choose Israel, and set them in their own land.” This was spoken about 650 years after Israel was already in Canaan/Palestine. And Ezekiel 34:13 adds: “I will bring them out from the people... and bring them to their own land,” spoken about 800 years after Israel entered Canaan. These verses cannot refer to ancient Palestine. Scripture itself points forward to a different land, a future homeland appointed by God.

Isaiah 62:2 promises that God’s covenant people would receive “a new name,” and Acts 11:26 tells us exactly when that happened: “The disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.” Revelation 3:12 ties this new name to the New Jerusalem, the redeemed community, and the name of God Himself. The Adamic people are the historical people of Christianity. They are the Israelite people who received a new name. Scripture is clear, the enemy of Israel would take possession of Jerusalem and use it as supposed evidence that they were God’s people. Who are these people? It is none other than the Edomites. Ezekiel 36:2–5 “Because the enemy hath said... The ancient high places are ours in possession... Because they have made you desolate... Therefore... I have spoken against all Idumea, which have appointed my land into their possession...” The very fact that those who now possess Jerusalem claim their “Jewish” name clearly identifies them as Judah/Israel is proof that they ARE NOT Israel, for Israel was given a new name.

Furthermore, His covenant people have been replaced in Jerusalem by Edomites. Where is New Jerusalem/Zion? That is the subject of another article. However, we do know that God’s people were promised a new land, and it wasn’t the old land of Palestine, and it wasn’t a spiritualized place. What can be plainly stated for this study is that Jerusalem represented God’s presence, God’s throne, God’s law, and God’s covenant people, and it is not in the Middle East. Imposters are in possession, and too many Christians are falling for the deception. END in the corporate world. Often, I have seen Meredith Miller, the current owner of this business, working out in the yard, loading lumber, sweeping floors, and picking up trash.

I recall one time stopping at the store, and Meredith was out back in sub freezing cold, burning trash in an old burn barrel. These are all jobs that he could command one of his employees to do, but he is wise enough and humble enough to know how to get loyalty and respect from those who work for him. Yes, I have seen him in the office doing the work that a successful businessman must do to stay "in the black." But the willingness to work side by side with his employees, he demonstrates the value and respect he has for them.

Often, people want to have a position of authority, but authority without respect is a slippery slope into abuse of power and corruption.

I never knew Meredith's mother, but I did know (although slightly) his father, Joe Miller.

But seeing how Meredith Miller works and how his kids work in the store, I would say is obvious that Meredith had not only a good father but a good mother as well who taught the value of work, respect and an honorable life.

As I was entering the store to pick up a couple of items, I noticed an SUV, and inside was a young woman in her late 20s.

With her were three children between the ages of 5 and 10. They were all quietly sitting while she was reading a book to them. I stopped and asked, "Do you home school your children?" She said she did, and I simply told her, "Good for you - I know it is a lot of work - but keep it up." She smiled and said, "Thank you!"

Motherhood is a big job. And God put into the nature of women to be good mothers. All the compiled history of mankind gives undisputed testimony that women are designed for motherhood. A quality that men

- in their best efforts - can not duplicate.

Raising children to fear the Lord is an awesome responsibility. When a baby cries, it is telling you to "feed me" or "change my diapers". However, if we could hear the baby's inner spirit, we would also hear it cry out, "Feed my spirit!" "Teach me the way of righteousness!"

When a new baby comes into a family, everyone is excited. They want to come over and see the baby. They want to know how much the baby weighs, what color the eyes are, what color is the hair, and who it looks like.

People get excited about the baby. When a couple gets married, one of the first things they want to do is start a family. They want to have children. It is a normal, compelling force of nature.

And God put into the character (those willing to listen to the spirit of the Lord) of mothers and fathers to supply the different needs a baby and children require.

One characteristic of mothers is their extreme patience in caring for their children. I have seen those mothers patiently unbuckling their babies from their baby seats, struggle with the baby and packages going into the post office. They will spend 5 minutes or more unbuckling and then buckling for a 2 minute errand into the post office.

Let's face it, even the best of dads, who try very hard, cannot compete with the quality of care a God-fearing Christian mother has for her babies.

Yes, dads excel in other ways. The nuclear family is awesome!

One of the biggest lies that has been fostered on women is that motherhood will only get in their way.

Many young girls are being told that they should want to have an exciting career and babies will only tie them down to dirty diapers and snotty noses.

"It will be an extreme waste of your talent!"

Unfortunately, young girls often buy into the lie and put off marriage to chase a career. But as they grow older they suddenly feel their need to have children. Others wait to get married to have children, but then marriage opportunities may not be available. Some will then resort to adoption - often of nonwhite children.

Mom wasting her time while missing out on her important career of directing traffic at a highway construction zone.

I want to say I have no objection to women working outside the home if circumstances truly make this a requirement. [NOTE TO DAD. IF YOUR WIFE IS HAVING TO WORK TO HELP BRING IN MORE INCOME, GET OFF YOUR BUTT AND HELP WITH THE DISHES, COOKING, WASHING, AND ANYTHING ELSE SHE NEEDS AFTER A DAY'S WORK. BECAUSE THAT IS WHAT REAL MEN AND DADDIES DO!]

Dr. Jordan Peterson says his research shows that women who forego motherhood usually end up feeling cheated. Mom's come in all shapes and sizes. Some are country moms, and others are city moms, some of money and some do not. But one thing about moms is that most are like a she-bear when it comes to protecting her kids.

Motherhood takes women and turns them into teachers, cooks, chauffeurs, nurses, Bible teachers, mentors, nose wipers, counselors, and with a gentle kiss can heal a "boo boo" faster than a speeding bullet.

And unlike an outside job - she is on 24-hour duty - 7 days a week

While women have shown success in many careers, Christian mothers remain the most important element for building a strong community and nation.

Oh how the world hates mothers. Their greatest hatred isn't for men who wield the sword but for strong Christian mothers who will give birth to strong sons and daughters. In fact, a white mother giving birth to a white child is by far a greater act of resistance to the Satanic Rebellion than 10 guys standing on the street corner yelling, "White Power!"

They may tolerate a white woman having a baby, but they do not want her to become a "mother" to her babies.

After all, she has a time clock to punch!

The corporation needs her!

"Get back to work!"

COME TO ME from page 4

Jesus warned us in John 10:10, "The thief comes to steal, kill, destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."

It seems all too obvious that the enemies of the Cross are miserable and unhappy people. They hate Christians because Christians are filled with life, hope and joy!

Matt 11:11-29 records Jesus saying, "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and you shall find rest unto your souls."

Many people are angry that the leaders of our nation have become what Isaiah (56:10-12) calls Dumb Dogs.

"His watchmen are blind, They are all ignorant; They are all dumb dogs, They cannot bark; Sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber. Yes, they are greedy dogs which never have enough.

And they are shepherds who cannot understand; They all look to their own way, Every one for his own gain."

Yet how many of those people who want to point fingers at the preachers and politicians for being unfaithful also live unfaithful lives in a far country. Far away from the love and grace of our father?

Jesus is calling our nation to come home. Jesus is calling our nation, as in former times, to again be Christ Centered and a White Centered

As late as the 1960s the overwhelming majority of Americans believed and understood that America was a White Christian nation.

I asked this to AI and this is the reply I received.

"Yes, in the 1960s . . . The majority of the white population—implicitly or explicitly saw the United States as a "White Christian nation."

But in 1965 a change of our immigration laws was forced upon us and soon we began to be flooded with non-European immigrants with a different culture and a host of strange gods. Soon we were headed into a far country.

But like the father of the Prodigal Son, the Lord sees us even though we are still far off.

Yes, we must still point out the sins of our national and religious leaders who like "dumb dogs" have betrayed us. But how many of our people also remain "far off."

Jesus said, "Come to me and I will give your rest." If your life is in a far country and you earnestly want America to become White Centered again, it may very well be necessary for you to rededicate your life and the life of your family to first truly become Christ Centered.

New Book from Pastor Robb

The American Indian Ancestry Myth

Some have been told the nasty rumor that they have American Indian in their ancestry. Some even claim it was an Indian Princess. But for the overwhelming majority the rumor is simply not true. When did these nasty rumors start? Real American Indian authorities even say the rumors are not true and DNA reports from 23&me reveal the falsehood of the rumors.

All of this is shown in this new book by Pastor Robb
