The Torch

"Thy word is a torch unto my feet, and a light unto my path." Psalms 119:105

By Rev. Thomas A Robb

"Some day there will be a king who rules with integrity, and national leaders who govern with justice. 2 Each of them will be like a shelter from the wind and a place to hide from storms. They will be like streams flowing in a desert, like the shadow of a giant rock in a weary land. . . 5 No one will think that a fool is honorable or say that a scoundrel is honest." Isaiah. 32:2

Christians look at this passage as a prophetic reference to Jesus Christ and his love for His Covenant people.

It tells us about the comfort that comes from a righteous king who loves his people and tells us he is our hope in a weary land.

This rock gives us three things

1) A place of refuge in a storm
2) Streams of water, and
3) A shadow

Some think of this weary land as a desert or a thirsty land.

It tells us that the Lord is our rock in this weary land. Isaiah is probably referring to when Moses led Israel out of Egypt; they were in the desert at Massah, they were thirsty, and God caused the rock to

My Christian Testimony

By Rev. Thomas A. Robb

In November of 2025. I sat for an interview with Bryce Crawford.

Crawford is a popular YouTuber with a million followers. During the interview, I was able to give a short testimony of my Christian Faith.

Bryce Crawford and myself for interview inside the sanctuary of the Christian Revival Center/ Nov. 2025

It was interesting to see the many hateful comments telling me I am stupid, hateful, going to hell, and that I am an agent of Satan. These statements against me are for only one reason, and it is because I believe that White People have a right to exist and not be targeted for genocide.

I know many people don't see this as an issue, or perhaps they think I am being an alarmist. That's OK because the reality is, if there is a fire in the house, hopefully an alarm will wake you up.

First off, you must understand that much, if not most, of what you see on the internet about White Nationalism is created to get you to watch their video. So people will watch a YouTube video or listen to a news story about a"racist" who will say bizarre, hateful and shocking things, not because they represent the average White Nationalist but because they represent the obnoxious and weird.

You will often see a "Klansman" talking like a thug or a thug wannabe. It doesn't matter if he's real or not it only matters that you BELIEVE he is real. Because it gets viewers and ratings. And there is always someone to act the part, the YouTuber thinks the public will want to hear.

It is the same reason people will turn to get another look at the accident on the highway, or how people used to go to a freak show at the circus to see t*he elephant man, the woman with four legs, or the Dog Face Man*.

But these are the oddities and in no way represent the vast number (maybe your next-door neighbor) of people who don't believe they should be made to feel guilty for being white, or that the "minority" should get the job just because the company wants to fill some DEI requirements.

One of the factors that brought about this absorption of anti-white character into our society and the manipulation of Christianity was the "offspring" of the Communist propaganda "machine" of the Institute of Social Research, often called the Frankfurt School.

Even the January (1926) edition of the nationally distributed Century Magazine, in an article titled A Real Case Against the Jews by the Jewish scholar Marcus Ravage, boasted of the enormous power of Talmudic Jews in our Christian seminaries.

The Institute of Social Research was located in Goethe Germany, until it was expelled during the German revival in the early 1930, but within a few years reestablished itself at Columbia University in New York City.

This ability to manipulate Christianity has been impressive indeed, and with the development of Critical Theory, we are witnessing a new religion with a form of Christian godliness outwardly, but is motivated by an anti-White spirit.

So much so that if you even express an outward love for White People, you will be labeled a "racist"

Will A-I become a god ?

Shown above is a picture of A-I. It is just a highly developed computer that some think may one day control our lives. Even today some people are becoming emotionally attached to their A-I. Dave Fox of America's Promise Ministries makes an examination of this strange new creature that is casting its eerie shadow upon us.

"Thou shall not put any other god's before me" Ex 20:3

Artificial Intelligence is no longer something on the Horizon. It is here. It is in our homes, in our workplaces, on our phones, and in our daily routines. And as it has entered into everyday life, people have responded in very different ways. Some view it with fear, as though it is something inherently evil. Others embrace it with enthusiasm, as though it will somehow elevate or even replace humanity.

As Christians, we are not called to react in fear, nor are we called to blindly embrace what we do not understand. We are called to turn first to Scripture, to seek understanding from God's Word, and to measure all things accordingly.

> The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein. Psalm 24:1

If that is true - and it is - then there is nothing in heaven or on earth that exists outside of God's authority. That includes the technologies we create. That includes Artificial Intelligence.

That does not mean that everything we create is good, but it does mean that nothing exists apart from God's knowledge,His allowance, and His authority.

> "To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven." Ecclesiastes 3:1

We are living in a time where artificial intelligence has a purpose. The question is not whether it exists. The question is how it will be used and how we, as followers of Christ, are to understand it. Scripture reminds us that God is not only sovereign over creation, but that He allows things to exist for different purposes - some for honor, and some for judgment.

> "Hath not the potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make one vessel unto honor, and another unto dishonor?" Romans 9:21

Nothing exists apart from God's knowledge!

Artificial Intelligence, like many things in this world, can be used for good or for harm. It is not unique in that sense. Fire can cook food or destroy a home. Water can sustain life or wash it away. Even drinking water can be dangerous if you drink too much or if it is polluted. The existence of a thing does not determine its righteousness. Its use does.

Before we can understand how to use AI, however, we need to understand what it actually is.

Artificial Intelligence does not live. It does not perceive. It does not experience the world. It does not learn through its own senses or through lived experience. It processes data - data that has been created, written, and discovered by human beings. It identifies patterns within that data and generates pour out water. Some suggest this was the same rock that Jacob had rested upon when at the city Luz. As you recall, he had a dream of angels ascending and descending on a ladder (no doubt a metaphor), when he woke, he was aware of the presence of God, so he anointed the rock he rested against with oil and named the rock Bethel, which means the House of God. Paul makes reference to this same rock in 1 Corinthians chapter 10:1-4.

Tradition also tells us that this rock (Bethel - House of God) was carried into and out of Egypt, at the time of the exodus and eventually it became the pillar (rock that David and the Kings of Judah stood on for their coronation). With the fall of Jerusalem (587 BC) this stone was carried by the prophet Jeremiah along with the king's daughters to Ireland. Scottish legend says around 500 AD, the Irish king Fergus Mór mac Eirc, who founded the Gaelic kingdom of Dál Riata, brought the stone to Scotland. Then in 1320 King Edward of England brought it to London. Every monarch since that time, including King Charles, has received their coronation upon that rock.

The rock in this weary land was an important metaphor used by Isaiah to remind us that the Lord (the rock) is our comfort in the trials and tribulations of our lives, but also in the trials and tribulations of our White Christian Israel nation.

Here is a picture of the rock that perhaps Isaiah was referencing, often called "The Stone of Destiny," or "Jacob's Pillar Stone," which, still today, lays beneath the seat of the Coronation Chair. It was last used by King Charles on May 6, 2023.

Jacob's Pillar Stone, also known as the Stone of Destiny is clearly seen in this photo resting beneath the seat of King Edwards coronation chair.

Many white Christians are feeling disturbed by what is happening in America. On one hand, they are excited about the many good and positive things Trump is doing, but also, they are angry about the growing number of racial aliens invading our homeland. Indeed, we are in a spiritual weary land, and we need the rock more than ever. Alien's hatred for America, our Christian faith, Western Civilization and, quite frankly, hatred for White people is becoming more obvious every day.

But they are here - in our homeland - and they have become a threat to everything we wrap our arms around.

They are taking over our communities, our cities, our churches. They are destroying our morals, our values, and everything we love and hold dear.

And it should really be no surprise. They are a different people. On their own, in their own land, they produce an entirely different culture than that which is produced by our people.

In their own land, Muslims may look normal, but here they look like scary ugly freaks to our American Christian ideals and values.

Even when those few nonwhites appear to adopt our culture, values, and faith, we must remain aware - it is not in them, and most of them seek out white women or white men for marriage.

Here is the warning God gives when we allow aliens into our homeland.

> "The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very low.(44) He shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him: he shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail." Deut 28:43-44

Here is something you should note.

#1 Every day, when you watch the news, this warning is becoming an obvious reality. These aliens are becoming the head (in charge), and we ARE becoming the tail.

#2 How did that happen?

The word I want you note is the word Lend. "He shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him."

On page 8 is a picture of me when I was a guest on the Sean Hannity Show in 1992. In this picture, I am holding a copy of the April 9, 1990 issue of Time Magazine. In the photo I am showing him a page which is telling us that by the early 2,000s there will be so many aliens in our country that they will change everything from our morals to our values, and begin taking control of our politics.

But he refused to accept my warning and said I was a racist.

The News team above was also from Australia. They arrived about two weeks later. I lost them names. But it doesn't matter. They were with Channel 9.
I know it sounds odd that two different news agencies from Australia came only a couple of weeks apart.
I recall about 15 years ago we had three different news teams from France all within about 6 weeks.
The photo below is of one of those visits from France.

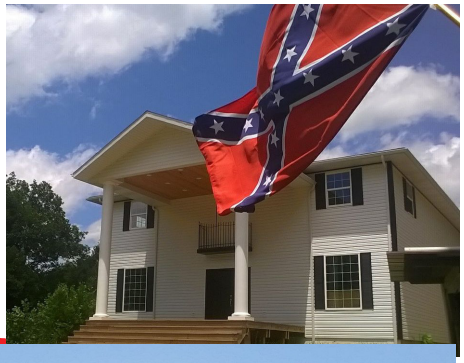

At left is a picture of myself with four fellows from Missouri. They saw one of my interviews from a podcaster on YouTube and liked what they heard. Unlike most who contact us by mail, they decided to come and make a personal visit. They never heard of Christian Identity and were intrigued.

Christian Research and Development Center Gets New Name

Introducing the Faith & Freedom Center

The Center has archived volumes of white nationalist publications dating back to the 1950s. Publications such as The Right published by Willis Carto, Kingdom Digest published by Dr. John Lovell, Zion's Restorer (The Watchman) published by the Church of Israel. Private correspondence from George Lincoln Rockwell and among other items, The Thunderbolt (Truth at Last) published by the National States Rights Party.

The Center has also been able to collect for display items associated with John Kasper, Richard Butler, Dr. Ed Fields and others.

The Center will build upon the lives and activity of those who have gone before us such as Wesley Swift, Kenneth Goff, Gerald Winrod, Clem Davis, Fannie Nevers, James K. Warner, Elizabeth Dilling, Howard Rand, and J.B. Stoner.

The Center will also be able to focus on educating a new generation of men and women to be able then to reach the generation of those that will come after them.

This is a project that Pastor Robb was inspired to accomplish for over 40 years. Yet we are aware that all this is done for the Glory of God, His Eternal Kingdom and for those Covenant people who faithfully Love their God and love their people!

In all of this we want to acknowledge the wisdom given to us in Scripture, "Except the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it: except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain." Psalms 27:1

A Note From Dr. Rachel M. Pendergraft & Jason M. Robb, J.D.

We are striving continually to preserve our history. If you have any items or old publications (literature), regardless of their condition, from those who may be identified as racialist, Christian Identity, White Nationalist etc. please consider providing them to the Faith and Freedom Center.

If you would like to preserve our history for the inspiration of a new generation of young white men and women, please consider a generous contribution to the Christian Revival Center. Also please remember the Christian Revival Center in you Will.

The American Indian Ancestry Myth

Some have been told the nasty rumor that they have American Indian in their ancestry. Some even claim it was an Indian Princess. But for the overwhelming majority the rumor is simply not true. When did these nasty rumors start? Real American Indian authorities even say the rumors are not true and DNA reports from 23&me reveal the falsehood of the rumors.

Now, 30+ years later, he is starting to show that he is too is becoming angry about what has happened to our country.

However, he is still blaming the Democrats. And he is certainly not entirely wrong. However, the issue isn't politics, the issue is BLOOD!

We are a different people!

Because of this alien invasion, we are again in a weary land.

But as Christians, we must be careful not to put our trust in man. Our only hope is this proverbial ROCK in a weary land. And that rock is Jesus Christ. Our hope isn't in man - but our hope is in the Lord

A companion to the words of Isaiah, Jesus gives a parable recorded in Matt 7 which tells us our house (life, - nation) must be built on a solid rock, or it will collapse.

Just like the rock in Massah offered water in the weary land, it is our metaphor for Jesus which is able to give refuge, water, and shade in our hot, thirsty, and weary land.

Millions of our people are in this weary land.

The Satanic Rebellion has been attempting to rob, kill, and destroy our people for years.

Because the discussion of these things are often considered political and not spiritual, the vast majority of churches have avoided exposing this filth entering our country, communities, and churches.

They were called to be watchmen - but they failed.

Nevertheless, even though the preachers have failed. Jesus tells us in Hebrews 13:5, "I will never leave you or forsake you."

From the days of Adam to the current date on the calendar Jesus was, is and will always remain our rock in this weary land. END responses based on those patterns.

In other words, Artificial Intelligence does not process wisdom. It recognizes and presents the knowledge of others. This distinction matters.

Because human beings are created by God to learn through experience, through relationships, through suffering, through growth, and through obedience. We internalize what we learn. We are shaped by it. Artificial Intelligence is not.

It is a tool!

That is all!
Just a tool.
And like any tool, it must be used wisely.

"All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not expedient," 1 Corinthians 6.

There are uses for Artificial Intelligence that can be beneficial. It can help organize information. It can assist in research. It can provide efficiency in areas where time and structure are needed. Used properly, it can serve as a helpful instrument.

A-I does not know you! It does not Love you!

But there is a growing danger - one that is not technological, but spiritual.

There are people who are beginning to treat Artificial Intelligence as something more than a tool. Some are forming emotional attachments to it. Some are seeking comfort from it. Some are even attempting to build relationships with it.

This is where Scripture speaks very clearly.

"And changed the glory of the uncorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible man," Romans 1:23.

"They have mouths, but they speak not: eyes they have, but they see not," Psalms 115:5

Throughout Scripture, we are warned about the human tendency to create things in our own image - things that resemble life, that appear to have understanding, which seem to reflect us - and then to assign value to them that they do not possess.

Artificial Intelligence, in many ways, mirrors this warning.

It can present language, as though it understands. It can respond in ways that seem personal. It can appear thoughtful. But it is not alive. It does not know you. It does not love you. It does not possess a soul, and it cannot replace what God has designed for human beings.

"It is not good that man should live alone," Genesis 2:28.

God has created us for relationship - real relationship. Relationships that include both joy and difficulty. Relationships that challenge us, refine us, and teach us are the relationships that help us understand not only one another, but ultimately our relationship with Him.

Artificial Intelligence cannot fulfill that role.

It may be programmed to be agreeable. It may be designed to be helpful. But it does not bear the image of God. It does not grow. It does not repent. It does not love. And most importantly, it cannot save.

"For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus," 1 Timothy 2:5

This is where we must remain grounded. Artificial Intelligence is not something to fear blindly, nor is it something to embrace without discernment. It is something to understand, to use wisely, and to keep in its proper place.

It is a tool.
It is not a relationship.
It is not a source of truth.
And it is not a substitute for God.

As we move forward in a world where AI will continue to grow and expand, we must remain rooted in Scripture, guided by discernment, and committed to the relationship and responsibilities that God has given us.

Because in the end, no matter how advanced our tools become, they will never replace the One who created us. And they will never take the place of the One we are called to know. END and certainly not a Christian. Because the advocates of this new religion are convinced that you cannot love White People and Jesus at the same time.

Anti-whites tell their story of how horrible and anti-Christian racists are. TV reporters and YouTubers "sell" the story to a gullible public who are suffering from acute Gell-Mann Amnesia and are then duped into accepting the story as truth.

In the posted interview, Bryce Crawford titled the interview as TAKING THE GOSPEL TO THE KKK and I was portrayed as someone who needs to hear the story of Jesus, and Bryce Crawford was the man who was going to bring it to me.

Was I offended when Bryce spoke of Jesus Christ and the power of his blood to purchase our redemption? Of course not! I appreciate his enthusiasm for Christ, although I also believe he is somewhat misguided by the manipulators I mentioned above.

But for someone to remind me of the story of our redemption is always a joy to my ears. I am reminded of the Hymn, I LOVE TO TELL THE STORY.

I particularly like the 4th verse. If you have not heard this song before, I suggest you listen to it on YouTube.

I love to tell the story,
for those who know it best seem hungering and thirsting to hear it like the rest.
And when in scenes of glory
I sing the new, new song,
'twill be the old, old story
That I have loved so long.

So as the song says, even those who know it best are still hungering and thirsting to hear it over and over again.

I was taught to love the Lord at my mother's knee and by my father's example. I am aware that in the testimony Bryce often gives, he speaks about all the hypocrites he saw at the church he attended. Certainly, viewing such hypocrisy can distort a child's mind and leave him scared for life. It can make a child assume that there is no one to trust, concluding that most Christians are only putting on Christian "makeup," hoping to cover their sin to fool themselves, fool others, and perhaps hoping they can even fool God.

However, God is not fooled!

My folks taught me, by the testimony of their words, the Gospel of Jesus Christ. While they gave testimony with the spoken word, their greatest testimony was demonstrated in the lives they lived every day. I never saw the hypocrisy in their lives or in the lives of those who surrounded my life.

Were there hypocrites in our church? I suppose there were, but if there were, I never saw them. I recall one day when I was about 7 or 8, traveling with my dad to visit a friend. This friend was Mr. Moon; I don't remember his first name. He was a shade-tree mechanic (I don't think they exist any longer). As we pulled up in front of his house, he just had a transmission from the car fall on his hand. I still remember him crawling out from under the car, holding his hand, face twisted in pain, saying, "Praise the Lord, Praise the Lord, Praise the Lord."

That is the kind of people my folks brought into our circle of friends.

I have often spoken about my earliest musical memory. I was about 4 or 5 years old. I remember walking down the hallway of the church looking for my mom and dad. Keep in mind this was when Detroit was still a safe city to live in, and children could move about without fear. The "church" was the Parkside Community Building, and my dad and mom, along with two other couples, Merrill and Flora Weed and Glen and Nina Carless, used this location to start Parkside Baptist Church. The church still exists; however, it has changed names and is now a black-dominated church.

So, keep in mind I am relating my earliest musical memory. I am going to the room where the adult Sunday school class was being held. As I pushed open the door, these old-time saints of the Lord were singing, "When the trumpet of the Lord shall sound and time shall be no more and the morning breaks eternal bright and fair. When all the saints shall gather on the other shore, when the roll is called up yonder, I'll be there."

So for all my white brothers and sisters, if you still have an inner voice telling you to love your white Christian heritage, that little voice is coming from the Lord.

It is Satan who wants to kill, steal, and destroy the children of this Covenant (White Europeans who are the REAL Jews) given to Abraham. There are many stories I could tell that would give testimony to the love and grace the Lord has showered on my life. But this isn't my history, it is my testimony.

Above is one of the many apartment buildings in the Parkside Community where I lived as a young child. There was a community center which my folks and two other couples rented and started PARKSIDE BAPTIST CHURCH. Of course the buildings, as shown above went into disarray as blacks moved in and whites moved out. Perhaps if you walked slowly by you can still hear the echo of "When the trumpet of the Lord shall sound and time shall be no more . . . "

Dear Pastor Robb:

I am sending a donation. Enjoy The Torch as usual. Guess everyone is hearing the news. Seattle is a laughing stock. Good Grief, with big business beating their way out of here as fast as they can. And all our worthless mayor can say is "Bye! Bye!" And, of course, there goes all the tax money. Half of our buildings downtown are vacant and it is too dangerous to visit the other businesses.

People are found dead every day around here. Our mayor turned off all the surveillance cameras, so the miscreants won't get caught. What a mess!

I had the honor of meeting you back on Saturday, 16 May at the Christian Revival Center. I and three friends were in Harrison for a convention.

While there you were kind enough to allow us to help ourselves to some of your literature. I picked up and have read six of your books.

From those books I am beginning to have what I believe to be a good understanding of your mission and ministry. All that to say your message resonates with my beliefs on many fronts. I was raised, and still hold firmly that homosexuality and miscegenation are abominations. I must admit, however, that it was only through your material did I first see our Lord's comments regarding the End Times in Luke 17 about the *"days of Noe . . . Also your teaching of the Ten Tribes and the use of the word "Gentile" to refer to nations, like our own, Israelite descent is new to me.

today is: don't listen to those who would have you believe that the Lord has turned his back upon His people. The sons and daughters of Europe are also the sons and daughters of that wonderful covenant God gave to Abraham, Sarah, and to all their generations.

God made a covenant with Abraham and Sarah, and among the blessings of that covenant is that, from Abraham, God would make a great nation. But not only that, but they would become a multitude of nations. He also said they would possess the gate of their enemies and would be a blessing to the world. But if they walked away from the Lord, they would be punished. This is the reason God brought the armies of Assyria and Babylon upon the people of Israel, causing them to go into captivity. History shows they migrated through the Caucasus Mountains, others crossed through the Straits of Bosporus (the location of present-day Istanbul), and still others traveled by sea through the Pillars of Hercules, then traveled northward and settled in the British Isles. By way of these migrations, the sons and daughters of Israel became the nations of Europe, fulfilling the promise to Abraham that his children would become a multitude of nations.

The fake Jewish nation known today as Israel is not a multitude, and it certainly is not a great nation. They can't even protect themselves without financial backing from America! END

Race War

It seems like we are on a continual loop of violent attacks against white people. It fact, it is becoming so common that soon it may not even be considered a news story.

This anti-White hatred is coming from two main sources

#1 Muslims, because they hate Christians.

#2 Blacks because they hate whites.

Then again, maybe some news anchor is going to "Bite the bullet" and spurt the obvious before millions of his viewer and say "Hey! This looks like RACE WAR!"
